

Gregg Foley / Golf School

Backswing

Rear arm has folded into a natural throwing position

Front arm extended

Back is turned towards the target

Weight should be on the inside of the back foot

Rear elbow should be no higher than the rear shoulder

Shoulders turn around a tilted spine placing the front shoulder lower than the rear shoulder and under the chin

Back leg should retain some flex from its original start position